July 1.

From the Charleston Courier.

“WHATEVER confidence the federal-ists may feel in the value of the principles on which they act and in the excellence of the cause in which they have embarked, they have some reason to tremble at the talents of those who oppose them. The writings against them are really formidable, and of a kind so extraordinary that we fear it will be difficult to resist them.
Upon us, we confess, they have, in one way at least, the effect which the mode of warfare of Hernando Cortez had upon the Mexicans. Those poor innocent, ignorant souls, could not tell what sort of things the guns and horses of the Spaniards were, and we confess that we are often as unable to comprehend what those writers, from the President himself inclusive, down to the humblest of his literary retainers, mean. Their introduction of new words and their adoption of some new rules of Grammar, we own, quite confound us. But we subscribe to the merits of this mode of writing even tho’ we should suffer by it. The injury which the natural Rights of Man so long sustained from the restraints of Religion, of Government, and of law, being now so fortunately done away, it would be unfair to let the restraints which Grammars and Dictionaries impose upon genius, any longer remain—and we are as happy as we ought to be that this new reform has begun under the great and respectable auspices of that Great Man, whose multifarious attainments it is impossible for us to describe, since we have not immediately at hand that volume of the Arabian Nights Entertainments in which the modest Barber gives a detail of his own qualifications, to the infinite mortification of the amorous gentleman he is called upon to have; out of about two or three hundred of which; a deep philosopher; a jagacious politician; a profound mathematician; a subtle logician; and an inspired poet, are all we shall mention at present, or indeed recollect.

“Liberty & a straight head of hair forever,” exclaims the man in the farce.— Liberty! and above all things. Liberty of Speech! And what is liberty of of Speech, but the right to make use of any words we please. Nothing would serve the tyrants of Europe who, left nothing untried over, but they must fetter, or as they called it, set bounds to their language, and insist upon other men using only the words fixed by authority.
BENONI in Italy. ACADEMY of France, and DR. JOHNSON, in England, were employed in this gross act of tyranny. And a number of subordinate slaves to the will of the European despots were employed in making little petty laws to restrain the liberty of speech; those were called grammarians and he hanged to them: the study of those works has so contracted our minds that we are often unable to understand the admirable innovations of the disciples of the Rights of Man; and in fact, shall soon, we fear, not be able to understand them at all.

For instance, reading a certain letter of a certain Great man, when we came to this sentence, “The people are the proper deposite of their own liberties.” Taking the word deposite in its old sense, we thought it meant that their liberties had deposited the people somewhere or other.
Because, according to the old lexicography, the word deposite meant the article deposited; being at a loss, and knowing that all birds of a kind, pies, jays, parrots, &c. all have a language intelligible to each other, we asked a volth democrat, who directly put us on the right scent.
In short, we found that by some figure of a new Rhetoric, something perhaps like the old synecdoche, the word deposite was put for the word depository. So that by this happy management he has killed two birds with one stone, and made the people and their liberties too, slapdash, at one stroke, both depositories.

In like manner when the word illy struck our eyes in that Great Man’s writing, not knowing what it meant, and running in the old beaten ring, we went to look for it in Johnson’s Dictionary; and grieved our consternation when we could not find it. That narrow minded old slave had left it out. In short no such word was to be found at all. There was ill, an adjective as they called it; and ill, an adverb as they called it, also; but the ornamental y was left out; and the fellow, I mean Johnson, attempts to carry it off with the authorities of such antiquated, stupid old fools as Ben Johnson,

Shakespeare, Dryden, Prior, Sidney, Collier, Addison, Arbuthnot, Locke, Swift, and I do not know how many more—all of whom, as literary authorities particularly before our Great man. How much prettier too, does the letter y found as a termination, than the liquid z, as in the fond diminutive—Bill, Billy—Will, Willy—Nilly, Nilly. We seriously recommend it to all men, particularly architects, to think of this, and instead of laying the sill of the door, to use in compliment to our Great Man, the word illy.

Another word which that old ignomus has excluded from the pale of the English language is grade a word as Don Quixotte says of Rosinante, grand sonorous, and expressive. We wonder that it never occurred to the writers of England to make use of it. It is much shorter and better than step or degree; besides the merit of making the writer seem to understand latin. Curious as it may seem it is never made use of in that ignorant, flavish hole, Europe, and its flavish submitters to grammar and dictionary rules, but in mock bombast, or mock tragedy, or ridicule of pedantry, as in the following story told of a snuffy, tobacco smoking pedant, a fellow of a college, who being requested by a man that met him in a square of the aforesaid college, to direct him to a certain gentleman’s room, answered thus:

“Describe a diagonal to this parallelo-gram, ascend the prime lignéal grades, “and there you will find him peripatiz“ing in his cubiculum, or theorouning “in his fenestra.” Or in plain English: “Cross the square, go up the first “wooden steps, and you will find him “either walking in his chamber or look“ing out of his window.” On this authority, the only one we believe in existence, we join our voice with that of our highly respected authority in the chair, to recommend it to all dictionary makers, lexicographers, politicians, barbers, and philosophers.

But of all the performances which have hitherto put our little wits to the strength, that by which we have been most completely baffled is the following, which for sentiments, and language suited to the sentiments, lay claim to preeminent superiority. We confess we do not understand it; but as Boniface, though he did not understand latin, was sure that father Forgard spoke it well, because he spoke it so fast, so we may say we are sure the writings we allude to must be fine not, because the words are so unintelligible, and the rules of grammar are with dignified scorn rejected, but because it has been copied with the advantage of every typographical ornament which newspapers afford, from a northern paper into a morning paper. For the benefit of our readers we beg leave to offer them two or three extracts from it.

“When the hissing snakes of despo“tism ooze forth their poison we ought “to do out utmost to counteract its bane.
“ful effects, not by unfair means but “by the most honorable.”

What a wonderful deal of information is conveyed in this pithy sentence! First it tells us that there is a despotism in America? secondly, that that despotism has snakes; thirdly that those snakes (different of course from all other snakes) actually hiss. And next it gives us the comfortable information that those snakes are so much gentler than all others that instead of biting, and squirting their poison thro’ a perforated tooth, they only ooze it out; that is to say let it run out gently. And then comes a promise, still more new to us and still more incredible, viz. that the effects of this poison are to be counteracted by honorable means. A liberal way no doubt of dealing with snakes—much more liberal indeed than their way of dealing with their fellow creatures.

“Treachery and deceit (it continues) “knows its federal votaries.” Here to adopt the words of Don Quixotte, “we “are up to our elbows in novelties, and “may take our choice of them;” we may either indulge in a new mode of grammar by making the singular verb knows and the singular pronoun it agree with the plural treachery and deceit, or we may suppose that Treachery is married to Deceit, and that both being one flesh they are singular.

We give these as a specimen of the whole—and we are sure our readers will agree that taking quality and quantity together, that specimen is enough. Yet we cannot refrain from giving another.
In the same paper we are presented with a new word, “the ironic grasp of slavery,” meaning the iron grasp. This addition may lead the way to others of a similar kind. And we may fairly expect, that, improving upon the hint, our next Presidential Message will propose a plan for filling the mouth of labour with ironic food. A fine thought that ironic.

There is a word which we would recommend to our readers with the same gratuitous benevolence, but that it is really quite too deep for us. What the illuminated genius who wrote it intends by it we cannot as much as guess. The mausoleum plans of a party would baffle Belzebub himself to interpret.

With such language as this, however, millions of intelligent Americans are choused of their common sense and political rights. And in such language are the most abominable slanders circulated and believed.

LONDON, May 17.

The letters from the North of Europe are extremely contradictory with respect to the dispute between Russia and Sweden—the accounts from Petersburg stating, that all hopes of peace have vanished, whilst those from Stockholm announce an amicable termination of all differences between the two states. It is to be observed that the date of the latter is six days later than that of the letter from Petersburg, and as there is little probability that the court of Stockholm will attempt to measure its strength against the colossal power of Russia, the Swedish intelligence is perhaps the most likely to be true.

Some acts of violence have been committed by the Turks against some of the subjects of Austria, near Rasta. A dispute arose concerning an Austrian vessel laden with wheat on the Danube, which the Turks endeavoured to seize; a skirmish ensued in which several persons were killed and wounded. The court of Vienna has in consequence, demanded satisfaction for the insult.

The Arabian rebel, Abdul Wechab, is said to have collected an army consisting of nearly one hundred and fifty thousand men, and all the country between Mecca, Medina and Bassora, is reported to have submitted to him. The Porte is collecting numerous bodies of troops to march against him.

A number of troops have lately arrived at Sables, a part of which, together with some artillery, have passed over to the Isle Dieu, the French intending to fortify that Isle, in order to prevent it from being taken by the English by a coup de main. So say the French papers, but it is probable that the troops were sent to La Vendee, (in which Sables is situated) for a different purpose.

Gen. Rapp had lately a conference with Aloys Reding, at Schwitz, of which the latter afterwards gave an account to the grand council, from which it appeared that general Rapp had given assurances of the constant benevolence of the first consul towards the smaller cantons, and had stated, that in case the other cantons should, by a violation of the constitutional act, compel the French to take measures against them, the independence of the smaller can-tons should never be exposed to any danger. From this it should seem as if some new measure of oppression was intended to be exercised against that unfortunate country.

The French troops have at length entirely evacuated the Brisgau.

According to private intelligence from Paris, general Duroc set out from that capital on Saturday last, on another mission to Berlin.

The French funds had fallen on Thursday to 52, 30.

This day a proclamation will be issued for raising the bounty to seamen.

Mr. Fox, it is said, means, after the discussion of the negotiation shall have taken place, to make a motion in the house of commons for the proposal of overtures for peace!

Mr. Pitt intended to take his seat yesterday in the house of commons, but did not get down before four o’clock, after which hour he could not be sworn in.— He will certainly take it before Monday next.

Mr. Fox and all his party, we understand, mean to oppose the war. Of this party we yet know not whether we ought to rank Mr. Sheridan and Mr. Tierney.
The former of these gentlemen has always expressed in parliament, upon very trying occasion, such genuine English principles, that we can hardly suppose he will object to a war for the preservation of the

At the Court at the Queen's Palace, the 16th day of May—Present, the king's Most Excellent Majesty in council.
It is, this day ordered by his Majesty, by and with the advice of his privy Council, that no ships or vessels belonging to any of his Majesty's subjects be permitted to enter and clear out for any of the ports of the French or Batavian Republics, or for the ports of any country occupied by the armies of France until further order; and his Majesty is further pleased to order, that a general embargo or stop be made on all ships belonging to the French & Batavian Republics whatsoever, now within or which hereafter shall come into any of the ports, harbors, or roads, within the united kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, together with all persons and effects on board the said ships and vessels; but that the utmost care be taken for the preservation of all and every part of the cargoes on board any of the said ships, so that no damage or embezzlement whatever may be sustained; and that the right honorable the Lords Commissioners of his Majesty's Treasury, the Commissioners of the admiralty, and the Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, are to give the necessary directions herein, as to them may respectively appear.
W. FAWKENER.

PARIS, May 13.
We announced some time ago, that 13,000,000 of piasters were expected at Cadiz from the Indies; we now learn from Bourdeaux, that a great part of it arrived about the end of April.

PETERSBURG, April 16.
The hopes of peace are all on a sudden vanished. Our troops march on the 18th. The emperor has advanced money to the officers, in order that they may not be embarrassed by preparations for the march and the campaign. General Michelson will command the army in chief. Gen. Van Suchtelen remains with the emperor, who it is still asserted will take the field in person. Admiral Tschischagoff commands the fleet.

STOCKHOLM, April 22.
A frequent interchange of couriers takes place between this court and that of Petersburg, but we are in general here without the least inquietude with respect to the differences between the two countries, and we already regard the business as amicably terminated.

Arrived, brig Lucy, Humphreys, from Barbadoes. Capt. H. informs, that when he failed an expedition was fitting out at Barbadoes against one of the French islands, supposed to be Martinique.

BRIDGETOWN, (BAR.) JUNE 11.

The anxious interval between our last publication, in which we had looked for something important and decisive from England, has not passed without some interest, but has been marked by such strong measures as shew the vigilance and activity of the Naval department on our station. On Wednesday night, his Majesty's ship Cyane, capt. Maxwell, bro't into Carlisle Bay the French transport L'Adelaide, 29 days from Rochelle, bound to Martinique with troops. The principal officer is Lieut. Col. Peitavy, Chef de 2d Bataillon de la 107 Demi-Brigade; and there is an Adj. Major, 22 other officers, and 329 men on board. Also a French bark L'Alerce, commanded by M. Le Jeune, a Lieutenant de Vaisseau, with 6000 barrels of powder, 18 24 pounders and shot and shells, from L'Orient 42 days, bound to Martinique. The above ships are at anchor off Charles Fort, with sails unbent, and rudders unshipped.

Thursday evening intelligence was received from St. Vincent, of a French brig, with 100 troops on board bound to Tobago, having been carried into that port by his majesty's sloop Hornet, Capt. Hunt.

Every attention has been paid to the comfort and convenience of the French officers and soldiers of the two ships brought in here. The chief de Bataillon, Peitavy, and the Adjutant Major, have quarters allotted to them in Bridge Town; the other officers, in certain proportions, are permitted to come on shore on parole, subject to proper restrictions.

The sick have been conducted to the general Hospital at St. Ann's, and they gratefully acknowledge the humane kindness and attention which has been shewn to them by Dr. Burke, and the other gentlemen of the Medical Staff.

The Chef de Bataillon and Major hined with the Commander of the Forces on Thursday, and with Lord Seaforth on the following day.

The private ship Triton, hired for the purpose, has been dispatched to England by the Commander in Chief, in consequence of the detention of these vessels, and Lieut. Col. Murray and a Naval Officer failed in her.

Extra of a letter from a gentleman in Nevis to his friend in Norfolk, dated the 14th June.

"And so far does Commodore Hood think of the present appearances of WAR, that he has sent into Barbadoes two French frigates and three transports bound from France to Guadalupe."

A letter received at Peck's coffee house, (Baltimore) dated Cape Francois, June 18, 1803, states, "That they have had no attack on that place, and the brigands have entirely quit that part of the island; but that they feared the fate of some of the neighboring posts. Three hundred brigands had deserted, and then guarded the outer posts. They had been attacked by the other brigands, but succeeded in completely putting them to rout. Gen. Rochambeau had embarked for C. Francois to remain there, having, it was understood, received orders to make that place the seat of government. He was expected there the day after the letter was written. The French ships of war had all been called home, except two or three. The brigands had a number of barges about the different parts of the island."

Bal. Fed. Gaz.

The Josiah Collins, Dalton has arrived at New York, 36 days from Liverpool. Left there, June 19, ship General Green, and Baltimore for Baltimore.

Lloyd's List, May 18.

Arrived, Mary Ann, Guenn, at Cork, from Baltimore; Mentor, Atkins, at Leghorn, from ditto; Pembroke, Arnold, at Barcelona, from Virginia; Venus, Mack, do. do. Maty, Bruce, from Genoa, from Virginia.

The Greyhound, Holmes, from Baltimore for Guadalupe, was spoken June 27, lat. 36, long. 72.

The editors have been favored with the Times (of London) of the 19th May, and its whole sheet supplement, containing the whole of the late correspondence between the British & French governments. It comprises upwards of 24 columns in small print. We this day commenced its publication, but it will require several successive papers to detail it to our readers, without excluding other useful matter. To the correspondence is annexed an appendix, of which No. 1, is stated to be Sebastiani's report, which has been published some time since in the American papers.

No. 2, is stated to be a view of the republic, communicated to the legislative body on the 22d of February.

And No. 3, is the following translation of a letter which has never before been published.

(Bal. Fed. Gaz.)

Translation of a letter from Talleyrand to citizen Fauvelet, in Dublin, dated Paris, 26 Brumaire, 10th year (17th November, 1802.)

I forward to you, citizen, a series of questions, concerning which I am desirous of having your answers. You will have the goodness to place them opposite the questions on the same sheet of paper, doubled in two, similar to the one which I have the honor to send you. I shall be obliged to you to send me this paper as soon as possible, without, however, suffering your too great haste to be prejudicial to your accuracy. If you are doubtful upon any point, you will have the goodness to mention it. You will probably find no difficulty in consulting with some well informed merchants or clerks in the custom house, who you think may have it in their power to give you some positive information. You will declare the sources from whence you have drawn that information. You will not consider this business as forming a part of your official correspondence. You must not number it, but you must content yourself with putting at the top of it, as in the project which I enclose to you. Private Correspondence.
To citizen Fauvelet, at Dublin.
(No. 4.)

PRIVATE CORRESPONDENCE.

QUESTIONS.

1. What number of vessels have entered and cleared out of the ports within your district within a year, from 1792 to 1801, inclusive?
2. What is their tonnage or their admeasurement in sea tons of 2000 4 P?
3. Under what flag do they navigate?
4. From whence they come?
5. Whither bound?
6. With what merchandise freighted?
7. What was the price of freight to the principal ports of Europe, each sea ton of 2000 4 P. S.?
8. What French productions are most in request in the market of the town where you reside, as well as of the other considerable towns in your district?
9. What is the merchandise which can be exported to France with greater advantage from the said markets than from any other?
10. What are the course of exchange, and the current prices of merchandise from three months to three months from the year 1792 to 1801?
11. You are required to furnish a plan of the ports of your district, with a specification of the soundings for mooring vessels?
12. If no plan of the ports can be procured, you are to point out with what wind vessels can come in and go out, and what is the greatest draught of water with which vessels can enter therein deeply laden?
13. What are the principal commercial houses?
14. If the heads of these houses are foreigners, you are to point out of what country they are; and in all cases you are to state with what country they are principally connected, and what is their chief line of commerce.
15. What is the usual course of exchange?
16. Whether there is a public bank, and what is its organization.
17. Whether there are any insurance companies, public or private, and what are their customs and rules, and the prices of insurance, for European and long voyages?
18. In case there exists any other public establishment which relates to commerce, you are to give every possible detail concerning it, especially in whatever regards manufactures and fisheries.
19. You are to point out the relative conformity of weights and measures with those of France ancient and modern; as soon as you shall have obtained practical and exact information on those points.

19. You are to add to all this the most extensive information, as well general as particular, which you may be able to obtain from authority, especially with regard to commerce, and particularly respecting false accounts of purchase and sales of different merchandizes, in order to ascertain the expences, rights and local customs, in case of purchase, and sales.

20. Whether there are any fairs in your district; what species of traffic is carried on there, and to what amount.

No. V. Is the article inserted in the Correspondent.

Nos. VI and VII. are letters from Spiridon Forodi, Esq. to Lord Hawkesbury, giving an account of Sebastiani's conduct at Corfu.

MATRIMONY.

IT is much to be regretted but indisputably certain, that many persons of both sexes are deterred from entering into the married state, by secret infirmities, which delicacy forbids them to disclose; and there are not a few who being already married, are rendered miserable for want of those tender pledges of mutual love, without which happiness in this state is at least very precarious. It has been ascertained beyond a doubt that those circumstances are occasioned by general or partial relaxation or weakness in either sex, and it is equally certain that the genuine AROMATIC LOZENGES OF STEEL are the best, if not the only remedy ever discovered for this species of debility. When taken into the stomach, they immediately dissolve and diffuse themselves like a vapor through every pore, producing effects at once delightful, salutary and permanent. When the spark of life begins to grow dim, the circulation languid, and the faculties paralysed, these Lozenges are found to give tone to the nerves, exhilarate the animal spirits, invigorate the body, and re-animate the whole man. When aversion to exercise, loss or depravity of appetite, and palled countenance, indicate approaching consumption, the delicate female will be preserved and restored to health and society by the benign influence of this medicine. When the delusions of imagination, or the force of bad example, have tempted unguarded youth into the dangerous labyrinth of secret sensuality, debilitated his body, and impaired his understanding, these Lozenges will protect him from lingering disease, the infirmities of premature old age, and a wretched dissolution amidst the agonizing reflections of conscious guilt. When the sons and daughters of dissipation have brought on themselves debility, relaxation, imbecility, and a long train of nervous affections, manifested by impaired memory, anxiety, agitation, tremours, languor, pained, emaciation, indigestion, apathy in men; hysterics, spasms, loss of appetite, irregularity, weakness, abortion, pains in the back, chest, &c. in women; the Lozenges will restore health and vigor to the debilitated frame, and cheerfulness and animation to the mind.

Price One Dollar per packet.

Particular directions for their use are sealed up with each, but as the great benefit to be derived from them can only be secured by having them genuine, the public are requested to observe that the signature of Messrs. T. H. Stokes and Co. are affixed to each packet, with out which mark of authenticity, they are not genuine.

Dr. Atkinson's genuine Essence of Mustard.
Rheumatism in every stage, instantly submits to its penetrating powers, which has succeeded in curing the most desperate cases of rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, numbness, palsy and complaints of the stomach, after various medicines have proved ineffectual. It is prepared in pills, and also in a fluid state. The pills are particularly serviceable in flatulences and indigestion, and by their salutary operation, promote perspiration, and gradually undermine the most obstinate rheumatism; and, at the same time, invigorate the debilitated constitution. The fluid essence is a remarkable active embrocation, necessarily used with the pills, and as generally excites a tingling sensation; it removes the causes of pain, by bringing on a circulation in the parts affected; by this means, frozen limbs, the feverish sprains and bruises, old strains and relaxations, are generally cured by a few applications. The genuine is distinguished from counterfeits, by the signature of Thomas Stokes and Co. being affixed to each bottle; without which mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

The genuine Scotch Itch Ointment.
The only medicine that cures this disagreeable disease, by one application, so many thousands having experienced its efficacy; it is unnecessary to add any more arguments in its favor, but to caution the public that the name Thomas Stokes and Co. is affixed to each box, without this mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

Dr. Bardwell's genuine Eye Water.
A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the Eyes; speedily removes inflammations, dimness, itching, and films; it never fails to cure those maladies which frequently succeed the measles, small-pox, and fever; and is an unparalleled strengthener of a weak sight.

Dr. Hunter's genuine Antibilious Pills.
An agreeable and certain preventive of that predilection to inflammatory and malignant fever, which prevails at particular seasons of the year. The rapid and increasing demand from every part of the United States, and the West India Islands, is the best evidence of their superiority and excellence.

CHAMBAUD'S
Antasthmatic Lozenges.
A radical cure for coughs, colds, asthma and consumptions, difficulty of breathing, &c. &c.
Mr. CHAMBAUD, the sole proprietor of this medicine, has the satisfaction to announce that they have been the means of relieving many persons in a most precarious state of health. In common colds this medicine produces so salutary a perspiration that they generally are eradicated in a few hours. Coughing, being prolonged by that convulsive symptom termed the tickling in the throat, it shortens its duration by promoting sleep and strengthening the constitution. Pulmonary complaints, affecting the breast and lungs; those affected with them experience an almost immediate relief. Asthma and confined consumptions have repeatedly been eradicated by them. Infants in the hooping-cough, and women during pregnancy, may take them without the least fear of danger, and with the greatest expectation of relief, nor can it be administered at an improper season.

Anodyne Essence, for all kinds of Head Aches.

THE renowned virtues of the Anodyne essence, is now so generally known, that it is no presumption in the Proprietor, to say, that Head Aches, arising from whatever cause, or however violent, instantly submit to its penetrating powers. This invaluable Anodyne, has frequently succeeded after the best advice, and every other remedy had failed; by its salutary operation, it insensibly promotes circulation and perspiration, and thereby prevents the return of the most obstinate periodical head aches.

Specific Drops for Deafness,
Is recommended as an inevitable Medicine, for the speedy relief of this most afflictive complaint, and is proved by long and extensive experience, to be absolutely unparalleled; for many years have these drops been used in Europe with amazing success. Those who are unacquainted with the great relief afforded by this invaluable Medicine, are earnestly recommended to try it. Few are the cases in which it has not been of great service, and has very often perfected a complete cure.

HOOPING COUGH.
To Parents who have Children afflicted with HOOPING COUGH.

THIS Medicine is of the greatest importance, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time, entirely removes the most cruel disorder to which children are liable. The Lozenges are so perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small, that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Further particulars of the Medicines above mentioned, will be hereafter inserted.

SPRING PHYSIC.

DR. HUNTER'S Anti Bilious Pills are unquestionably proved by ample experience to be the most effectual remedy, at the same time the most innocent, pleasant, and convenient medicine for the cure of scurvy, scorbutic eruptions, leprosy, and other disorders originating from a corruptive state of the blood. The remarkable cure of Mr. Ellison, of Albany, who had been twelve years tormented with a most distressing scorbutic complaint, as also that of Thomas Johnson, a labouring man, in the service of Mr. Van Rensselaer, who was afflicted with a most horrid leprosy, must have convinced every one who has read the particulars of these cases, besides which, a variety of proofs of their efficacy, authenticated by persons of character and respectability are open to the examination of every inquirer. These must naturally be supposed to have their due weight, and impede the necessity of any further comment from the Proprietor, yet, he presumes to assert, that the real merits of this vegetable preparation will, on a fair trial, plead more forcibly its own recommendation than any thing which can be said of it.

Where also may be had,
Atkinson's Worm destroying Lozenges.
These Lozenges not only destroy worms where they exist, but effectually prevent their return. Those families who have followed Dr. Atkinson's advice, and used them in the Spring and Fall among their children, as their common physic, have now the happiness to find those children, which appeared sickly and consumptive, in the bloom of health, being entirely delivered from those dreadful vermin.

Sparta, Mount Pleasant, March 27, 1803.

We hereby certify, that our daughter, about 4 years of age, has been very unwell and in a bad state of health for these last two years. We always suspected that she had worms, and had given her several worm medicines, without any good effect, so that we despaired raising her till late. Hearing of some surprising cures being performed by Atkinson's worm destroying lozenges, we purchased a packet of them, and administered them according to the directions. The first dose brought away only one worm, and with it a quantity of slimy, offensive matter; the second brought away four monstrous thick worms nearly half a yard in length; and the third dose, a large quantity of a slimy, offensive matter. The vomiting and purging, with which she was frequently troubled have ceased—her appetite has become regular, and has over since enjoyed a perfect state of health, for which we are entirely indebted to this excellent medicine.

Re-animating Solar Tincture, or Pabulum of Life.

Of the cure of Consumption and Asthma, Disorders in the Stomach and Bowels, Convulsions, Cholera and Dysentery.
Cautious investigation, and attentive enquiry into the nature and laws of the animal economy, having long confirmed an opinion in the mind of the inventor, that all the maladies above mentioned, derive their origin from the same cause, indirect debility, or consequent weakness, the analogy of their source, by a natural inference suggested the idea of their removal by the same means; the result was the discovery of the Re-animating Solar Tincture, which after having been employed in thousands of instances, with the most unexampled and astonishing success, has obtained the warmest approbation of characters of the first respectability, both in and out of the profession; the proprietors can confidently recommend, as one of the most certain, efficacious, and pleasant remedies ever discovered by man or offered to the world. Price 1 dollar, and 1 dollar 50 cents per bottle. The large bottle contains nearly two of the small. Copious Directions for their use are sealed up with each bottle.

Specific Drops for Deafness.
FOR many years have these drops been used with amazing success, in DEAFNESS & HARDNESS OF HEARING. Those who are unacquainted with the great relief afforded by this valuable medicine, are earnestly recommended to try it. Few are the cases in which it has not been of great service, and very often perfected a complete cure.

Copious directions for the use of the Specific Drops for Deafness are sealed up with each bottle. Price one dollar.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

RAN AWAY from the subscribers, on the 23d inst. two likely Negro men, both named JACK. They were purchased by us in Baltimore, and escaped from us about 4 miles from this place, (Fredericksburg.) One is about 21 years of age, of a yellow complexion, near 6 feet high, & has on spotted negro cotton coat, & red striped overalls, and was late the property of Dr. Jennifer of Maryland. The other a black fellow about 5 feet 10 inches high, about 24 years of age, has a large scar on his cheek, near his nose, and has many grey hairs, occasioned by a scalded head when young, and was late the property of Mr. Joseph Greffis of the same state. Had on a pair of brown linen trousers and blue coat. Whoever will take up the said Negroes, and confine them in jail, shall receive the above reward. It is probable that they have procured a pass, and will endeavour to pass as free men. All masters of vessels, and others, are hereby forewarned from harboring or carrying off said Negroes.
